

Orasmuch, as I am credibly Informed, that notwithstanding the Laws and Ordinances of VVar, Proclamations, and all other Lawfull means used to the contrary, The private Souldiers, both of Horse and Foot, continue still to run from their Colours into England, many of them, as the Iudge Advocate of the Army informeth, being fled to escape Iustice, having committed notorious Robberies, and other Misdemeanors of high nature : These are therefore to require you to certifie unto the Iudge Advocate the names of all such Souldiers, as have, or shal run from their Colours, since the Army advanced into Scotland, and as neer as you can their former places of abode in England, to the end such course may be taken to apprehend and bring them to condigne punishment, as to Iustice shall be thought fit. Given under my hand at Edinburgh the 27. January 1650.
51.

J. LAMBERT.

To the Major of Colonell
Regiment or
Officer in his absence executing his place.

EDINBURGH:

Printed by Evan Tyler, in the year, 1651.